Four County Councillors To Be Elected This Year

The terms of office of four councillors of the County of Vulcan No. 2, including County Chairman J. E. Carlson, expire this year. Besides Mr. Carlson, who represents Division 2 of the County, councillors whose terms expire are Robert S. Irwin of Brant, representing Division 4; Clarence Greene of Mossleigh, representing Division 10, and Donald A. McNiven of Vulcan, representing Division 11. It is likely that the four councillors will all stand for re-election.

Nominations for candidates for the office of councillor in the four divisions will be received from 3:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. by Returning Officer C. H. Andrews on Saturday, Feb. 17, at the Vulcan high school auditorium, during the annual county ratepayers meeting.

Former Resident Now Baronet

A clipping from the Langley Advance, published at Langley, B.C., is of interest to Vulcan and district residents who knew Robert C. (Bob) Sygne when he was a boy in this district.

Born at Vulcan, he was the son of a farmer, Neil Sygne, who came from England to Canada to homestead in the early 1900's. Bob's parents died when he was a boy and he was raised by family friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Harvey. He attended Kirkdale School and finished high school in Calgary.

In 1942 he succeeded to the title held by his uncle, the late Sir Robert Millington Sygne, and is the eighth baronet to receive the title since it was created in 1801 during the reign of King George III.

An upholsterer and interior decorator by trade, he has been proprietor of a furniture store at Langley since 1945. He is married and has two daughters aged 15 and 12.

To Speak Here

Dave Hunter, recently elected to the leadership of the Alberta Liberal party, will be a visitor in Macleod federal constituency, Feb. 9 and 10. Meetings have been arranged for Vulcan for Little Bow provincial constituency, Pincher Creek for Pincher-Crowan provincial, Claresholm for Macleod provincial and High River for Okotoks-High River. Mr. Hunter, a machinery dealer at Athabasca, was in the airforce during World War II, is active in the Alberta Chamber of Commerce and past president of the Union of Alberta Municipalities. He plans to meet constituency people in connection with business of nominating for federal election and about provincial matters of taxation, municipal finance and farm problems.

Jenkins Manager Moves To Lacombe

Don Larkins, who has operated the Jenkins Groceteria here for the past few years, is presently in Calgary taking a course in store management. He will leave in about a month to take charge of the Jenkins branch at Lacombe. Allan Thomas, who has been employed for many years by Jenkins, has taken over management of the branch here.

Mrs. Larkins and small daughter are remaining in Vulcan until Don takes over in Lacombe.

A native son of the district, Don has taken an active part in the community. He is a past president of the Board of Trade, a lieutenant in "A" Company, Calgary Highlanders, and has been active in hockey and baseball as both player and coach.

Don and his wife Jackie will both be missed by their many friends in the town and district but will carry with them many good wishes for success and happiness at Lacombe.

Trapped In Barn, Eight Cows Dead

A $1500 loss was suffered by Ray Nowlin of Carmahay recently when eight of his Hereford cows died as the result of unusual circumstances.

The cows had wandered to the farm owned by Virgil Stout, who lives in Lethbridge during the winter months and the animals had apparently found the barn door, normally propped closed by a crowbar, blown open by the wind. The cows went into the barn, presumably to get out of the wind, when the door again swung in the wind and jammed tightly shut.

Mr. Stout, on an inspection trip to his farm, opened the barn door and found eight dead cows and one live one and immediately reported the matter to the Vulcan RCMP detachment, who tracked the one live cow to the Nowlin farm, where she had immediately headed as soon as released. The cows had been missing for some time but, in searching for them, no one had thought to look in a barn on which the door was closed. The one cow that survived is making a good recovery.

Alberta and any person shooting or in any other manner killing one of these animals is liable to a heavy fine.

The only exception is that from Dec. 1 to Feb. 28, each year the lynx may be trapped or killed by a licensed hunter. It is classified as a fur-bearing animal.

Protection of the lynx is considered especially important at this time as lynx subsist almost entirely on rabbits and rabbit population in the province is now reaching peak numbers.

Hockey Flyers Lose and Tie

Vulcan Flyers are not having things their own way in the series of exhibition games currently being played. In two recent out-of-town games the best they could muster was a tie along with a 5-1 loss.

At Nanton last Sunday afternoon, a goal in the third period brought Flyers to a 3-3 tie after being down 3-2 at the end of the second. The game opened with each club scoring once in the first period on goals by Steve Lebsack of Vulcan and Jerry Ransom of Nanton. Jerry scored again in the second while the third Nanton goal came from David Heibert. Dale Lebsack helped Vulcan with a goal and the tying goal came from Doug Scott.

Barons seems to be the team to beat around the circuit as they have come out ahead twice against Flyers, of late. Their most recent triumph saw them hand the 5-1 lacing on the locals at Barons.

A smart looking Flyers aggregation has been taking to the ice these past few games with new uniforms supplied by donations, collections and gate receipts. They are green and gold in color and constitute a big step in completion of the team's outward needs.

Champion will be paying a visit to local ice this Friday night at 8:00 p.m., and a return engagement at Champion will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p.m.

There has been a gentle stir 'round town this past week regarding the subject of artificial ice in town and a group of local men are going to meet this Friday night to see if such a project is just a dream or whether the idea carries some hope of coming to pass.

Large Crowd At Demonstration of Carnegie Course

A crowd of 271 persons attended an introductory demonstration of Dale Carnegie principles at the Elementary School auditorium, Wednesday, Jan. 31. Presenting the course, George Wallace of Wallace Leadership Training Ltd., claimed this to be the largest crowd west of Toronto at such a session.

Mr. Wallace first outlined the advantages of the Dale Carnegie course and introduced four local graduates who took part in a demonstration of one aspect of the instruction, memory training. Graduates are Bea, Bill and George Richardson and Norman Soder who took the 14-week course in Calgary this winter.

Organization of a Vulcan class was to take place Wednesday night of this week with Frank McCool, managing editor of the Calgary Albertan as instructor.

How To Win Friends . . .

A member of the Advocate staff attended the Dale Carnegie introductory session last week and still looks back on the whole thing with mixed emotions.

The evening was spent with the speaker on stage extolling the virtues of the course, the achievements possible through its participation, new associations and horizons beckoning and so on but most of all there was this ability to win friends and influence people. This was digested in a pleasant, interesting manner, as were the delicious coffee and doughnuts served up by the Lions Club at the conclusion of the evening.

Three and one-half hours of goodness and enthusiasm though, partially collapsed when our lad, on leaving the building, found someone had walked off with his brand new pair of rubbers.

Doug Wilson New President

Board of Trade Reports Active, Successful Year

Douglas Wilson, Vulcan businessman, was elected president of the Vulcan District Board of Trade at the annual luncheon-meeting held in the Vulcan Lodge Hall on Tuesday, Feb. 6, in conjunction with the Agricultural Short Course. He succeeds John Wolfe, who has headed the Board of Trade for the past year.

Other officers named were David Mitchell, 1st vice-president; Stuart Joiner, 2nd vice-president; Art Leoni, Ivan Haga, Fred deJong, Glen Gorbous and Charles Boutland, directors; and Clarence Roth, secretary-treasurer.

Committee heads named at the meeting were: W. H. Richardson, Roads and Highways; Art Leoni, Business and Retail; Harold Hansen, Agriculture; Peter Pickersgill, publicity; Angelo J. Murphy, Financial. The membership committee chairman will be appointed by the executive.

Mr. Wilson was installed as president by W. A. Shields, a past president of the Board, and promised continued strong activity by the Board of Trade for the betterment of Vulcan and district.

In his report of the past year's activities of the Board of Trade, Mr. Wolfe mentioned the holding of a welding school and a building clinic for farmers, assistance given the 4-H organization, co-operation with the Town in "clean-up week," financial assistance to the Flying Club for the air strip, the changes effected in the highway entrance to town through consultation with the department of highways, the projected installation of mercury vapor lights at the highway entrance, co-operation in securing radio publicity for the town, sponsorship of the annual shopping day and co-sponsorship of the annual kiddies' day and the sponsoring of a protest meeting against the proposed establishment of a Hutterite colony in this area.

Enlarging on the roads and highway report, W. H. Richardson said that an effort had been made to get the department of highways start the hard-surfacing program last year from the Corner Store west, without success, but it was felt that the hard-surfacing on Highway 23 would this year take in the remaining gravel-surfaced stretch from the Corner Store to south of Blackie.

The highways committee had arranged for air photos of the highway entrance into town and temporary lane dividers had been constructed by the government this past winter. Although some improvement has been effected, it was still felt that the highway entrance should be widened and representations were being made to have this done by the department of highways.

A report on the Flying Club was given by Lionel Lucas, which showed that the $250 per year rental of the property occupied by the air strip is paid half by the Board of Trade and half by a grant made to the Board by the Town of Vulcan. At a "fly-in" last June, 45 aircraft made use of the air strip during the day and during the past six months an additional 50 aircraft have utilized the strip, including four emergency landings made. Machine parts, required urgently by farmers, have been flown in twice and during the year over 4,000 gallons of aviation gasoline has been purchased from local dealers.

The financial report was given by Secretary-treasurer Clarence Roth and showed that receipts during the year were $1,409 and expenses $1,460. The Board of Trade had 105 members in 1961.

It was decided that regular monthly meeting would be in the form of supper meetings, either the first Wednesday or the first Friday of each month at 6:30 p.m. as decided by the executive.

Calgary Speaker Says . . .

Industrial Development Aids Province's Economy

noon was Lewis Robinson of the Industrial Branch, Department of Industry and Development of the provincial government, Calgary. He was introduced by Mayor M. R. Morrison.

Speaking on the broad picture of industrial development in the province, Mr. Robinson said that the work of his branch was concerned with the creation of practical diversification of industry combined with economic stability and growth and the education of young people in skills to enable them to take advantage of job opportunities.

The specialized training of young people he termed as the "development of human resources" and said this was a phase of development of great importance.

Manufacturing plants located in Alberta were able to advantageously serve the B.C. market on one side and the Saskatchewan-Manitoba market on the other side and the annual value of products manufactured in Alberta has grown very rapidly to over one billion dollars this past year.

Guest speaker at the annual Board of Trade meeting Tuesday, expanding market for retail sales in the province is evident, with a 66% increase shown during the same period of time the population increase was 36%.

The industrial development branch, in co-operation with other government departments, also works unceasingly to attract new industry to Alberta and has met with good success in recent years.

Some smaller industries can be attracted to the small towns if the labor market is suitable and other advantages such as good, plentiful water and satisfactory plant sites are available. The lack

Fish & Game "Kids' Night" Friday, Feb. 16

Tickets are now being distributed by local Fish & Game members for the "Kids' Night" to be held on Friday, Feb. 16, at the Vulcan Cafe.

Any youngster and parents as well, whether Fish & Game members or not, are invited to this evening which will concentrate on the outdoor scene, through demonstrations of fly-tying, shot-gun shell loading, use of guns, and other interesting features.

It is expected speakers will be available with subjects of interest to the young audience and before the supply of hot dogs and pop is brought out draws will be made for prizes.

A big drawing card of the evening will be the showing of colored films with topics along the lines of outdoor sport and wildlife. Three films will be chosen from the following selections: "Wildlife in The Rockies," "Warden of Waterton," "Your Forest Heritage," and "Portage To Alaska."

50th Anniversary Of Reid Hill Pioneer Couple

Early residents of the Vulcan district, now residing in Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Andy McKague celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Thursday, Feb. 1, 1962.

Many friends and neighbors offered congratulations at "Open House" held at their residence, 620 20th Ave. N.W., Calgary.

Mr. McKague came to Alberta from Teeswater, Ont., in 1907 and homesteaded in the Reid Hill district, east of Vulcan, on the farm now operated by Walter Becker. He returned to Teeswater in 1912 to claim as his bride his school-days sweetheart, Merle Thompson.

After farmin' gat Reid Hill until 1945 they retired to live in Calgary and, except for four years spendin' London, Ont., they have resided there since. They are both active in a din good health.

Mr. and Mrs. McKague have three sons: Norman of Trail, B.C., and Cecil and Stewart, both in Calgary. There are six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

A strong and active Board of Trade is one of the best assets a town can have, said Mr. Robinson, and the work of such an organization in promoting its town and district is highly regarded and considered most important.

Representatives of more than 30 chapters of the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses met in Edmonton recently at a one-day "Chapter Institute." The role of chapters in nurse recruitment, developing leadership skills, and other topics as refresher courses and programing were among items discussed. Shown at the meeting,

A light topic of conversation, popular these days, is adequate light for living. As a creative tool, it gives the home decorator a variety of decorating schemes. Proper lighting can accent furnishings, bring out full polished beauty of furniture and make rooms appear larger or smaller, and always more attractive.

Valance lighting, strategically located lamps and decorative spots add dimension, depth and airy spaciousness to the living room.

Lighting to take your work out of the shadows is important, too. Reading, sewing and workshop activities need illumination without glare or shadow. Leisure time hobbies are much more enjoyable without needless eyestrain and fatigue.

Light for living is not restricted to the interior. Carefully placed, inexpensive and practical outdoor lighting can make your home a showplace after dark.

A Silly Suggestion

The matter of an official flag for Canada has been before the federal government for more than a few years now, with neither the Liberals nor the Progressive-Conservatives anxious to take action on the matter for fear of antagonizing one racial group or another.

Now a suggestion that strikes us as being the ultimate in appeasement and silliness comes from no less a person than J. W. Pickersgill, citizenship minister in the last Liberal government. Mr. Pickersgill has suggested there is no reason why Canada can't have two official flags, just as she has two official languages. He suggests the Red Ensign or other flag containing the Union Jack as part of its design might be used by Canada in other Commonwealth countries, and the adoption of a Canadian flag without emblem of any other country for national and United Nations use.

The Red Ensign, although not adopted as the official Canadian flag, is generally recognized throughout the world as the Canadian flag. The simplest solution, then, is to simply adopt the Red Ensign as Canada's official and national flag. It has been accepted as such, in most of Canada, for many years and there would not likely be widespread objection. The flag problem would then be ended, and with it ideas such as that dreamed up by Mr. Pickersgill.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor of The Advocate, Dear Sir:

To our knowledge there has not been anything printed in your paper to date, giving the view of the Hutterites or outlining the reasons for their way of living together. In order that your readers may know the "other side" of the story, as to why we live, act and believe as we do, we wish to submit the following:

We have been severely criticised on many issues, which criticism we feel is unjust, and for the most part would not be made should the people know and understand our faith and way of life.

The Hutterian Brethren Church is a community of Protestant Christians living together for the purpose of following the footsteps and teaching of Christ as described in the New Testament (Act. 2).

While we are commonly referred to as a colony, our fellowship is much more. It is our Church of Christ, of which the Holy Ghost is the Author and Architect (Act 2:4-47) (Acts 4:32-37).

We believe that our way of life and faith is that laid down by Christ in the early Christian Church. We believe that much of the church today has lost a great deal of this early faith. We are still trying to live in a community fellowship as we believe Christ would have us do. For this faith in God it would appear that we are looked upon as an undesirable aliens.

Even from the earliest days of Christ Church, there have been those who would destroy it, by whatever means were at their disposal. This effort has never been lessened and continues even to this day.

The more these enemies have tried to destroy it, they have found it to be like a fire, the more it is stirred the brighter it burns.

When we entered this land in 1918, we did so with the permission of the Federal Government, who guaranteed us all of the rights and privileges of British subjects, and to have the liberty and unhindered right of our religious views, without direct or indirect interference or molestations.

At that time and for many years later, we lived with freedom and happiness as we wished, but in later years there are those who would interfere with our rights and exclude us from the community.

We cannot understand the reason for this, other than that in later years there has been less Christian love amongst the fellow men.

We have been criticised for being land hungry, but we have no desire to be worthy either in land or any worldly goods, only to provide for our families and have only that land which we need for support. While it is true that we may have 10 or 15 sections of land in a block, it must be remembered, that that block is supporting 15 to 20 families.

You will agree that, while many farmers in the area have two and more sections of land per family, on the whole we Hutterites are supporting our families on ¼ section.

Again we have been criticised for remaining in a colony. You ask us to join your society, mix with your associations and generally take upon us your way of life. In answer we say to you: If we do so, it would be only a short time 'till we, as a church, and our faith would be so watered down until we would lose our identity and Christian standards, as has so much of the so-called church of today.

Our Lord has asked his people to "Come ye out from among them and be ye separate." (2 Corinthians 6:17).

You ask us to join the world — leave our standards. We answer: This would be much easier. It is not easy to take scoffing and ridicule, but we do so, as we are taught by the Lord. "And what does profit a man if he gains the whole world and lose his soul?" (Matth 16:26).

We are not above making mistakes. Our people are human and do err. But our church does not uphold any breaking of laws either civil or religious. Some of our people like some members of all churches get out of hand and offend our general teaching. However the whole church shall not be judged and condemned by one or more individual's misconduct.

It is sorrowing to us and it must be sorrowing to your church to see some of these things happen. But it makes us strive the more to try to erase these blots and give a better example to the community, and we pray to the Lord for his help in this struggle for righteousness.

It is not our desire to carry on this subject by way of continued letters of argument, but rather by this brief letter we hope to clear up some of the questions you may have in your mind.

Now with the Christian responsibility of supplying for our families, we as farming people have need for more land as our church grows. You folks do this as individuals as your need arises and we hope you will not be enbittered or intolerant toward us as we carry out our Christian duty.

We live in a wonderful land of plenty, blessed by the Lord. May we all live together in peace and good-will.

Sincerely,
New Dale Hutterian Brethren Church of Queenstown.

Mrs. Vaughn reported an increase in adult readers in 1961 with a total membership of 161. 3,810 books are now on the library shelves and it is imperative that additional shelves be provided.

Scout Rover Crew Active At Lomond

In enumerating the numbers of Scouts and Cubs in the Lake McGregor Scouting District last week, no mention was made of the fact that there is an organized group of Rover Scouts at Lomond.

This is the first Rover crew organized in the Southern Alberta region and just this past week a second crew was organized in Lethbridge. Credit for organization of the Lomond crew is given the group's leader, Keld Pedersen.

Lomond has been foremost in developing trained leaders for both Scouts and Cubs; consequently interest in the Scouting movement is maintained for a longer period. From such maintained interest comes the formation of Rover crews, and from such groups come the future leaders of the Scout movement.
